

Color Greatly Improves Architectural Lines of Home

Brown roof and upper walls, white body, eaves and trim make this house seem lower and longer. Examples of Color Magic Shown in Collection of Color Photos Now Available at New Paint Store

How clever use of color can vastly improve the exterior lines of a home, and how standard paint colors properly used, can transform a drab and uninteresting room into a gay and inviting retreat, are shown for the first time in a giant collection of color photos which have just been placed on display at the Torrance Paint and Wall Paper Company's new store at 1119 Sartori ave. corner of Post ave. According to James D. Johnson, proprietor of the store, the color portfolio will be lent to those planning to redecorate during the coming weeks.

Known as the Paint and Color Style Guide, this collection of hundreds of huge color-photos on pages two square-feet in area was compiled by the Decorative Studios of Sherwin-Williams Co., Cleveland paint manufacturers. Because the color-photos show beautifully-painted rooms and homes in their actual colors, much can be learned about the use of color from a study of the portfolio, the local paint man says.

For example, top-heavy houses can be made to look lower by painting roofs and upper portions in dark colors and by accenting horizontal trim with light colors. Ceilings can be "raised" by using light-colored paint and long, narrow rooms can be "squared" by painting end walls in warm, positive colors. Bathrooms can be "warmed" by using rose or other warm colors, while kitchens can be "cooled" by using blue, blue-green or gray blue, the experts explain.

Cherry Blossom Cafe Celebrating 4th Anniversary

Four years of serving delicious Chinese and American foods in a fresh, clean restaurant have given George Kakita, owner of the Cherry Blossom Chop Suey Parlor at 1214 Sartori avenue an exclusive niche among the city's best cafes. In observance of his fourth anniversary here, Kakita is presenting a bag of fresh almond cookies to each patron served today, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Cherry Blossom has been recently redecorated thru-out. Dispensing Chinese dishes, prepared by experienced chefs, family style and orders to take out, Kakita takes a personal interest in the cooking and his foods have won high praise from many local residents.

Father of five children, three attending Torrance high school, Kakita thanks his patrons for the steady yearly increase in business. He says he will continue to serve foods always fresh and clean in the genial atmosphere of the Cherry Blossom.
